

NHG Book Group Review

---

Please answer the questions below to help you summarize what was meaningful for you from the book group, as well as provide us with valuable feedback. Also, be sure to read the rest of the book soon. In the final chapters, Dr. Horney describes how neurosis affects our lives in other ways and areas, and she offers her experience as an analyst in redirecting neurotic development.

1. Do you identify with one of the neurotic trends of development (i.e., narcissist, perfectionist, arrogant vindictive, self-effacing, or resigned)?
2. What characteristics do you recognize in yourself that indicate the direction of your neurotic development?
3. What are some of the claims that you feel entitled to have met by others and by the world at large?
4. What are some of the shoulds that you feel you must live up to?
5. In what ways is it possible that you experience self-hate?
6. Have you noticed any positive changes in your feelings and choices since you began this study?
7. What would you like to change in the way that you interact with your life, and experience within yourself?
8. What would make this study more helpful?
9. What did you get out of the study? What was this experience like for you?
