PRAY: Master, guide me as I train to be a weapon of Your righteousness.

EXPLORE: Choose a few questions below and journal your observations throughout the month, or use this sheet and its reverse for a few notes. Share highlights during the monthly meeting.

Justice

- How did my claims to justice and fairness produce misorientation or unnecessary suffering?
- Was there a time when I let go of the compulsion to fight unfairness? What was the fruit?
- How have I shown mercy toward myself or others, and how did I endure my pride's backlash?
- When did I choose to be well instead of right?

Winning

- Was there a time when I met a lack of admiration, respect, or obedience with humility?
- When have I yielded for Jesus' sake?
- How did I resist the compulsion to compete with others?
- Where am I learning to play, and not just to win?

Disturbing Trends

- What self-hate, self-doubt, or self-accusation have I experienced this month?
- What did I do about it?
- How have I actively participated in being a victim this month?
- Have I seen ways that my commitment to superiority actually weakens and enslaves me?

Reality

- What have I learned about my pride by watching other mastery types?
- What limitations did I submit to, or what human needs did I humbly express?
- In what ways did I choose gradual progress or celebrate "mere" effort?
- How did I support and honor others' needs, abilities, and glorious potential?
