

MM Week 1 Reflection Guide

AFTER MEETING #1

What are some of your motivations for investing in your formal and/or informal mindfulness practice?

Where are you now with mindfulness and mindfulness meditation practices?

What might be a next step for you? Is meditating 20 min most days for a month an experiment you want to try right now? If not, what might be more supportive for you?

How might you support your experiment? (E.g., ask a spouse for childcare while you meditate, reduce other commitments, let go of certain standards or projects, put down other KF tools for a season)

THINKING AHEAD

What 1 or 2 daily routines would you like to bring moment-by-moment awareness to this week?

Is there a way you can help yourself remember to do this? (E.g., a sticky note, cell phone alarm, etc)

How much meditation do you want to experiment with this week?

How might you go about that? When?

Can you think of a Plan B if this doesn't work for you one day, or any day?

What challenges can you foresee, internal or external? (Take a peek at your calendar too.)

How might you meet those challenges?
