

8. The Karis Fellowships Dialogue Prayer

I set this up for two people to work together, but you can use it on your own. Just talk to yourself as if you were talking to the other person. You might wish to use your Flow Pages or to audio record your process.

Schedule together on a calendar the time or date you wish to work together.

Karis Dialogue Prayer

1. Spend a few moments in silent prayer together.
2. Choose who will begin to talk to the Lord about initiating things with the other (P1= Person 1).
 - P1: Begin with asking the Lord to join you in your exploration. Thank Him for the opportunity to heal. Come without expectations, only a willingness to be available for healing.
3. When you both are ready:
 - P1: Tell the Lord in the hearing of the other what it feels like to _____ (whatever the problem is).

BE SURE AND BREATHE DEEPLY

4. When P1 has finished telling the Lord their experience:
 - The other (P2) Asks: Is there anything more?
 - P2 Listens without reaction or comment, observes with mindful silence to maintain a connection with the Lord.
5. The listening one (P2) takes some notes in order to follow the story and also record the impressions of the one praying.
 - Can you think of an incident that would tell a story about this feeling?
6. When there is a pause or the praying one (P1) cannot go any further, the one listening (P2) might use these questions:
 - How does that feel when you think about?
 - Where do you feel that experience in your body?
 - Can your body tell you anything more about the experience?
 - What image might symbolize how you feel? or symbolize the experience?
 - Have you ever felt this way before or experienced something similar?
 - What did you want to say or do when you experience this?
 - What do you hope to learn from the Lord?
 - How would you like Him to feel about you?

You can also use the questions from The FAITH Process in the section Talk to Jesus.

7. Then when the praying one (P1) has finished telling the Lord their experience, both of you ask the Holy Spirit to speak the truth about _____.
 - If you were talking to a friend to help them think this through, what would you say? You might imagine what someone you trust would say to you.
 - What do you think God might want to say to you?

- Is there anything more?

If you feel safe you can share with each other (or a friend) what comes to your mind that has been helpful to you.

If the praying one doesn't feel safe then the other can just listen to what the praying one seems to be hearing from the Spirit.

If the praying one doesn't seem to hear anything, allow time to just talk about whatever comes into their mind.

8. When the praying one (P1) has finished you can both pray and close the conversation thanking the Lord for His care and thanking each other for what they have shared.
