BIBLE TEACHING

Let's turn to Philippians 4:4-9 and read these verses in Nancy's translation.

<sup>4</sup>Take your pleasure in the Lord at all times. I will say it again, take pleasure in Him. <sup>5</sup>Let your oriented and capable abilities be known to everybody. Let others know that through you the Lord is near. <sup>6</sup>Treat nothing with anxious care, but in everything by prayer and entreaty mixed with thankfulness, let God know what you want, <sup>7</sup>and the peace of God, which exceeds and has a wider extension than all of your limited reasoning, will in Christ Jesus keep watch over your motivations and perceptions. <sup>8</sup>And beyond that, siblings, in all of your dealings take into account what is true, what is divinely noble, what is oriented and just, what is undefiled and pure, what is beloved, what imparts good omen. Notice if anything is excellent and commendable. <sup>9</sup>And make it your business to practice the things that you have learned and taken to yourself, as well as what you have heard and seen in me, and the God of peace will be with you.

Take a deep breath.

Who wants reality? Sometimes reality feels like a grim existence, full of hard slogging, frustrations, and anxiety. These perceptions come from the Idol Self. Like an expert in war propaganda, the Idol uses false reasonings to convince us that reality is our enemy and that illusions are our friend. The True Self thrives in reality, so if the Idol can convince us to hate reality, we are only one small step away from hating the True Self.

God lives in reality, and He wants reality to become our natural habitat. If we choose to live in reality rather than illusion and courageously grapple with the challenges, limitations, and possibilities of real life, God can confidently trust us with all the marvelous experiences, fun, and delights that He has in mind.

Here are a few points that Nancy would like you to consider from this passage.

1. Take your pleasures with the Lord in mind

The Idol Self uses pleasure to escape reality and to escape the real God. The True Self experiences pleasure when it enjoys God, His creation, and His gifts. As your True Self grows, so does your capacity to enjoy real pleasure. God is longing to share with us real pleasures, but if we use pleasure to medicate, escape, or stagnate, He cannot trust us with these gifts. The quality of our work toward orientation is often revealed in how we use pleasure.

2. Prayer is real

God listens to oriented people who are guarding the commandments of Jesus in their lives.

3. God's peace is real

Real peace is not found in the stories and logic that we use to relieve our anxiety and restore our pride. Real peace is the fruit of trusting in God's real ability to be active in our lives as we choose to live in reality and cooperate with Him. We are not alone in our efforts to grow. God is a real player in our lives, and He provides skilled people in the community who can help us learn to live in reality.

4. Our choices are real

Through Jesus, God has shown us what our human glory looks like. However, we are not conformed to this glorious image by magic or without effort on our part. We have to make choices that lead us toward that goal. There are things we must choose to take on, and there are things we must choose to give up.

5. Our spiritual nature is real

Reality also includes the marvelous things that stream from the Unseen—those flashes of understanding that are like beacons guiding us home. Mindfulness training helps us catch these moments of inspiration that remind us of who we are and where we are really going. In all our dealings, mindfulness training helps us stay focused on realities that are divinely noble, oriented and just, undefiled and pure, excellent and commendable, beloved, and imparting good omen. This focus trains our material existence to cooperate with and express the reality of our spiritual nature.

This is Nancy's translation of First Peter 2:9. In this verse, the apostle describes the real identity and mission of your redeemed True Self.

You are a select generation, a sovereign priesthood, a company set apart, a people kept safe so that you may proclaim the wonders and goodness of Him who invited you to come out of the darkness and enter into His marvelous light.

Take a deep breath.

Let's continue training so that we might become the glorious people God designed us to be.

Our prayer might go something like this:

God and Savior, I want to proclaim Your wonders and goodness through my life. (Repeat)

ENDING PRAYER

Dear Father and Creator,

Thank You for this time together. Hold us in the power of the truth as You continue to guide us to our glory. Lead us to the next step in our healing this week as we co-labor with You to reorient our lives for a more effective flow and to flourish in our connection with our true design and work, with our community and the Creation, and with You, for the glory and honor of our Lord Jesus. Amen.
